

water!

Contributed by Matt Bucy
Tuesday, 05 September 2006

we have water! last saturday morning, just before the deluge of hurricane ernesto, in a brief ceremony in the newly landscaped meadow our newly installed well pump created a storm of it's own. here pictured is michel at the controls! this is a temporary set up to help us with construction. once the kitchen building is erected the well will be connected to an inside water pressure tank that will provide water for cooking and bathing.

for a movie click here.